A body of girls, still quiet and unexceptional. But one comes among them causing a break in the stillness.

First one ripple, then another until half a hundred appear "And there is no way of telling where the end is going to be" or what fantastic things may happen. As one link between students, faculty and administration, we dedicate this yearbook to our own action-producing pebble: Miss Anderson—may she never lose the ability to cause a ripple.

Dear Katrina,
I knew this page would bring back memories so that's why I'm writing here. And I've got love enough for three
I have my hopes to comfort me
I've got new horizons out to sea

But I'm never going to lose your precious gift
It will always be that way
And I know I'm going to find my own peace of mind
Someday, someday.

Where is this place that we have found Nobody knows where we are bound I long to hear, I long to see

'Cause I've shed tears too many for me.

On the wind, soaring free Spread your wings, I'm beginning to see.
Out of mind, far from view
Beyond the reach of the nightmare come true.

my dear Katie,

I suppose you're surprised that I'm writing in your book. I really don't know what to say - you've been such a great friend, the better I know someone the harder it is for me to write in words how I feel. You're always around when I need someone - Thanks. I usually make a habit of keeping things to myself but for once I'll say what I feel. I really appreciate all your kindness and friendship - you'll never know how much it meant (or means) to me. Take care of Alverno, it's kind of a nice place if you look at it in the right frame of mind. I believe you've done a great job as class pres - you are a natural leader. Stick with yearbook - it's a great experience. Come down to Newport for a few days - please? Girl's State ought to be great - hope you have a good time. I suppose you're not used to hearing me be so serious - I think I'm sick. No really, we've had many great times these three years - I remember all of them. I wish you the best of luck in all you do. Take care

Love,
Rita

you know there's more to say but the above was hard enough - I hope you understand

Hurry, before they close the gate!!!!

Just take a pebble
and cast
it to the sea

Then watch the ripples that unfold into me

Troubadour editors: Baba (business), Reets (lay-out), Durin (art), Kath (copy), Kel (photography), Trudy (head ed.).

It's all over, but not forgotten. For within these pages is a record for all the ripples, and the people who made them happen. We'd like to thank Sr. Helena, Sr. Deborah, Mr. David Sorenson, Mr. Amir Kojoory and Mr. Rick Lockwood for all their help. We also thank the student body for giving us the material to remember.

Singin' in the rain, just singin' in the rain . . .

Katie,
 Hardly know where to begin - you've been so good this year as Junior Class Pres. It's really been a pleasure working with you.
 Don't change - we miss you and always next year. Enjoy Girls State and your Senior year. Thank you.
 Love,
 Miss Longwill

Shreds of our memories are lying on your grass

Wounded
words
of
laughter
are
grave-
yards
of the past

Photographs of grey and song are scattered on your fields,

Once upon a time, Peggy Velling, possessing qualities of LEADERSHIP in her own special way, dropped a small pebble full of ideas into the senior class and jumped in after it.

Rita Costantino, not being one to miss the fun, decided to join in causing a reaction. Through her DEDICATION, she aided in causing a very noticeable splash.

Soon, everything became excited with a great stirring. Looking around, it was Jean Reedy with her endless ENTHUSIASM — an inseparable part of her personality.

The three were soon joined by Margaret Wynne, who gave herself completely to the proceedings. She and her own INDIVIDUALITY caused the ripple to appear and grow while adding her own unique touches.

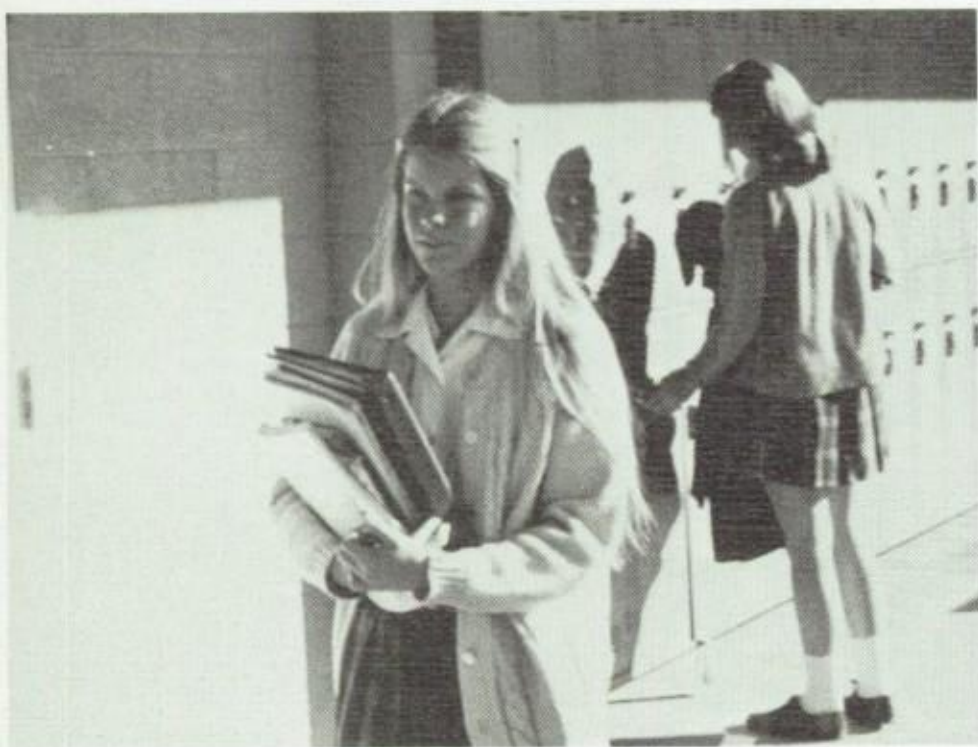

Letters of memories on your fields.

Barbara Shuster, meanwhile, brought forth her gift of SCHOLARSHIP and contributed her knowledge and logic so that the ripples would hold some purpose.

Now, while the rippling was taking place, a ray of sunlight danced upon the seniors and the warmth of Chris Brown's FRIENDLINESS was felt, inviting all to join in.

Meg Duran, smiling even in the face of defeat, showed that she truly had SPORTSMANSHIP and would help smooth the rough times while adding spirit to the spreading ripples.

This story never ends. It keeps repeating itself with different people in different places. These girls will separate and give themselves to others later. Yet now, the senior class thanks them for being a part of us for these short years.

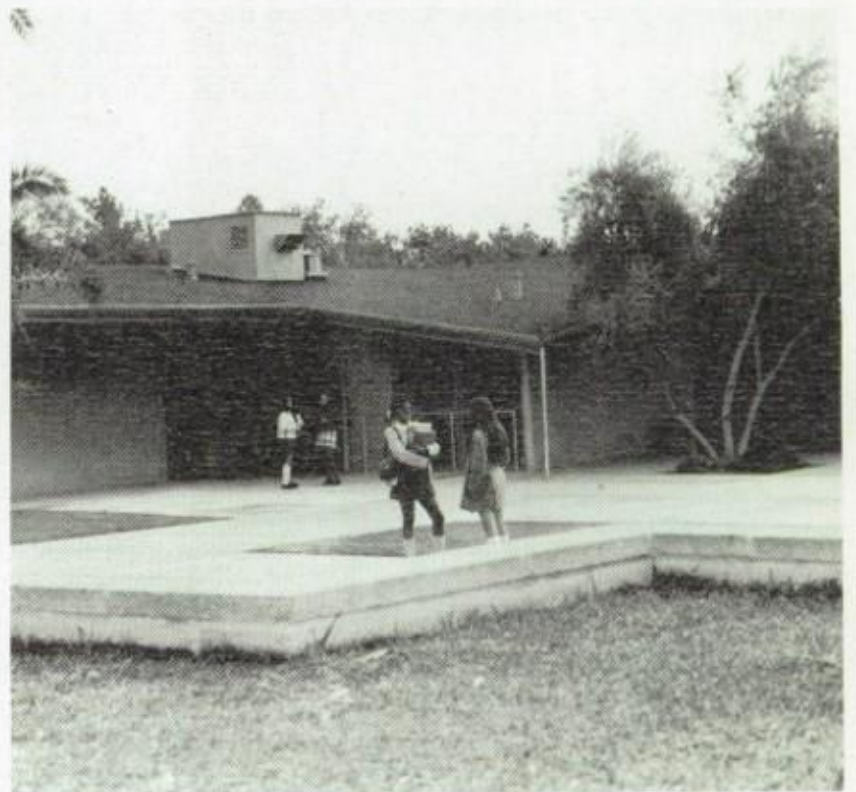

Sue Pitman added her own special touch of physical beauty to the ripples with her constant efforts to maintain an attractive APPEARANCE each day of the four years.

With sadness on your shoulders like a worn
out over coat

In pockets
creased
and tattered

hang the
rays of your hopes

The
daybreak
is your
midnight,
the colors
all have
died

Disturbing
the waters
of our lives.

* Did you have a fun year? How could you not with Laura?
Wasn't that a terrible class. Maybe next year
we'll be in the same class again. I hope you have a great summer. Stay CRAZY &
see you next year.
